Israel Downs Egypt Planes

Say Penetrate Country; So Air Battle Results

Second Incident in 12 Hours; Urgent UN Meeting Asked

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Israel announced today its jet fighter planes had intercepted and destroyed two Egyptian jets in an air battle well within Israel territory, the second warlike major incident within 12 hours.

The Israeli Foreign Office announced only a few hours before that Israeli troops stabbed into Egyptian territory Wednesday night and wiped out an army headquarters in swift reprisal against "hostile acts" it said brought Egypt to "active warfare."

Maj. Dan Gov, the Israeli military spokesman, said the Egyptian planes were intercepted after they had ranged deep into Israel. One was blown up in the sky over the fields of Yad Mosecal and the other fell in flames north of the settlement, he said.

U. N. Meeting Reported
Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, chief of the United Nations Truce Supervisory Commission, was reported to have cabled U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld asking for an urgent meeting of the Security Council to head off resumption of the 1948 war.

The Israeli army raiders captured and then destroyed the district headquarters of the Egyptian army at Khan Yunis, an oasis-fortress 15 miles southeast of Gaza and nearly four miles inside Egyptian territory.

It appeared to be the most serious Israeli raid since that of Feb. 28 when Israeli army troops attacked Gaza and killed 38 Egyptian soldiers. Eight Israeli troops died in the Gaza raid.

Egyptian losses in the newest attack were not announced. The Israeli spokesman said one Israeli soldier was killed and eight injured.

Climaxed Border Incidents

Today's air battle and the raid on Khan Yunis climaxed a series of border incidents which were renewed in force after Egypt last Tuesday broke off negotiations with Israel on bringing peace to the Gaza area. Israeli blamed Egypt for the incidents and said Wednesday night's raid was in reprisal.

Major Gov who announced the raid on Khan Yunis said the reprisal action was taken against what Israel considered the nearest source of hostile action, the district Egyptian army headquarters.

Things Confusing Upon Russian Plans To Free Americans

By DONALD J. GONZALES
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Department officials said today that refugee reports in Vienna may be a tipoff that Russia plans to release five American prisoners next week instead of the three it originally promised.

But they admitted everything is thoroughly confused. Moscow has said nothing about freeing 2 men mentioned by 10 Soviet prisoners just released in Vienna. And 2 of the Americans are mystery men nobody seems able to identify.

Nine Austrians and one Italian returned from long imprisonment in Russia told American authorities they had heard four Americans would be released by the Russians in Berlin next Monday.

They identified them as Wilfred C. Kums, Amesbury, Mass.; Frederick Charles Hopkins, Brooklyn; Sidney Ray Sparks, Tennessee, Ga.; and a man by the name of Grisham.

The names of Sparks and Grisham were a surprise. The Russians had promised to free Kums, Hopkins, and a Murray Fields of Brooklyn. But it had said nothing at all about either Sparks or Grisham.

Ten Youths, One of Biggest Groups, Leave for St. Louis Air Force Center

Ten young men, seven from Harrisburg, left from the Air Force recruiting station in Harrisburg Wednesday morning for the Air Force center in St. Louis to be processed. This was one of the largest groups ever to leave the local station.

Since the local recruiting station was opened last November by M-Sgt. Peter F. Demediuk, approximately 145 men have been enlisted for the Air Force.

In the group leaving Wednesday were David Anglin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Anglin, 701 West Raymond street; David Rees, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rees, 623 South Granger street; Robert H. Muggie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Muggie, 119 West College street; Clarence F. Herman Jr., son of Mrs. Edith Herman, 28 West Logan street; Seaborn D. Roberts, son of Mrs. Lela Frazier, 100 East College street; Gerald R. Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray K. Harper, RFD 3, Norris City.

M-Sgt. Demediuk, local recruiter, started a vacation today and will be absent from his office thru Sept. 13. During this period T-Sgt. James Brown, from Herrin USAF recruiting station, will handle recruiting in Harrisburg, being at the station Sept. 6, 9 and 12 from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. to interview any eligible applicants for enlistment in the Air Force.

M-Sgt. Demediuk will return for duty Sept. 14 and will again work his regular schedule: Harrisburg Monday thru Thursday, 8 a. m. to 11 a. m. and 4 to 5 p. m.; Friday 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.; and Saturday 8 a. m. to noon; Golconda, Tuesday, 12 noon to 3 p. m.; McLeansboro, Wednesday, 12 noon to 3 p. m.; Carmi, Mondays, 12 noon to 3 p. m.; Rosiclare, Thursdays, 12 noon to 3 p. m.

The student, Arthur Preisinger, 21, told his parents in a letter that Syrian border-patrol guards seized him and his three companions when they accidentally wandered over the Israeli-Syrian border last week.

Preisinger said all four were beaten and then hauled before a firing squad. But at the last moment, he wrote, the students' cries of "Christians! Americans!" led the firing squad to call higher officers.

The officers took them to Damascus and held them for 48 hours before the American consul obtained their release, he said.

Government Allots Polio Shots to States

Illinois to Receive 163,854 Doses under Distribution System

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service today allotted 3,348,000 doses of polio vaccine to the states and territories for vaccination of children under the government's voluntary distribution system. Illinois will receive 163,854 cubic centimeters, or doses.

Under the voluntary plan, each state decides how much of its share it will distribute to state and local health agencies and how much will go through regular commercial channels for private physicians.

Today's allotment was the largest under the voluntary control plan which went into effect July 31.

Previously, 2,923,000 doses of the Salk vaccine were allotted to the states and territories under the voluntary distribution system. Vaccine released before July 31 went exclusively to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Each state's share is determined by the number of unvaccinated children aged 5 through 9 years, the age group which now has top priority on vaccine supplies.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service reported today that the number of polio cases rose "only 6.6 per cent" last week, indicating that the polio season is nearing its peak.

The number of new cases last week was 2,279. This boosted the year's total to 14,140 cases, nearly 3,000 less than were reported during the same period last year.

Peron Still In and Stronger Than Ever in Argentina; Country Getting to Normal

By WILLIAM L. F. HORSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

Buenos Aires (AP)—President Juan D. Peron emerged stronger than ever today from ten drama-packed hours of crisis which began when he offered to resign and ended when he withdrew the offer with a pledge of violence against his political enemies.

Peron, in one of the most violent speeches of his career, made it clear the political truce was at an end. He gave permission to Peronistas to kill anyone rising against the government and he promised to reply to violent action with more violent action.

A general strike called by the six-million member General Confederation of Labor OGT to protest his resignation was called off today and Argentina began returning to normal. Strong police reinforcements guarded key points but no trouble was reported. The only casualties were seven persons killed and 31 injured, victims of a train accident at the village of Tucuman.

The victims, railroad workers en route to Buenos Aires to attend the mass rally for Peron at the Plaza de Mayo, were sitting on the roof of an overcrowded train. The high tension wires of a trolley line decapitated some of the victims when the train passed underneath it and flung others against big advertising posters lining the track.

Had Peron insisted on resigning Argentina would have been without a government, a congress or courts. Members of the supreme court, the vice president, Peronista senators and deputies en masse threatened to quit if he did. The OGT said it would continue the general strike indefinitely.

Plowing Champs Named at State Meet at Sibley

SIBLEY, Ill. (AP)—Dale Schaufelberger, Greenville, and Jack Leverich, Danville, today held Illinois' 1955 plowing championships plus the right to represent the state at the national plowing matches at Wabash, Ind., Sept. 17.

Charles Haberkorn, Chatsworth, was second in the contour division, and Fred Wright, Bridgeport, was third.

Dean White, who farms between Maroa and Argenta, was second in the level land contest, and Arnold Bohmeyer, Macoupin County, was third.

About 20 plowmen who qualified by winning Land Use Council district titles competed for the state championships.

The 1954 state champions John Daniels, Mulberrygrove, and Robert C. Erickson, Minooka, who went on to take the national titles last year, gave a demonstration at Wednesday's matches. They will also represent Illinois at the national matches this year as they seek to defend their titles.

Employees Get Same Benefits As Ford, GM

Settled 6 Hours After Deadline Sends Workers Out

By LEE LINDBERG
United Press Staff Correspondent

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers union agreed today on a new three-year contract giving 139,000 striking employees the same guaranteed wage benefits that Ford and General Motors granted earlier this summer.

The settlement came a little more than six hours after a midnight strike deadline sent workers streaming out of 61 Chrysler plants in seven states.

The union said the settlement automatically signalled the end of the first major Chrysler strike since its plants were shut down by a 100-day walkout in 1950.

Settle Key Issues

Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer who has been pinching for CIO President Walter Reuther as head of the union's bargaining team, said the union would do everything possible to "get the workers back on the job as quickly as we can."

Settlement of two key issues paved the way for agreement on the new Chrysler pact—a union demand that white collar workers be included in the jobless pay plan and the question of the effective date of the contract.

The union scored a victory when the company agreed during the post-deadline to include 8,000 office workers in the "guaranteed semi-annual wage" plan. Both sides gave in on the effective date problem. They agreed that the effective date would be Sept. 1, 1955, but yearly pay increases would be moved up to April 1 next year and to June 1 in 1957.

Last of Big Three

Chrysler plant workers under the new contract won the same guaranteed wage benefits as Ford and GM workers. The plan guarantees laid off workers up to 65 per cent of their normal take-home pay during 1-2 year of unemployment.

The Chrysler workers also won 6-cent hourly pay increases for each of the next three years, improved pension, medical and insurance plans, and an additional 8-cent hourly increase for skilled workers.

Today's settlement brought the last of the auto industry's "Big Three" producers into the guaranteed wage fold. Still remaining were the "little three"—American Motors, Studebaker-Packard and Kaiser-Willys.

American Motors' contract which covers 24,000 workers in Michigan and Wisconsin expires at midnight tonight. The company and union were expected to settle on basically the same terms as the union negotiated with the "Big Three." The union has begun preliminary talks with the other two members of the "little three" but they have not settled down to steady bargaining.

Find Hunted Killer Dead

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Police found the battered body of Leroy Eggleston in an abandoned well near here Wednesday night, ending a week long search for the 49-year-old gunman wanted for murder.

A telephone tip led police to the blood spattered well where the body was found. The tipster said he heard shots near a vacant farm house north of here. He said he wouldn't give his name because he was parked with a married woman when he heard the shots.

Eggleston, who was under indictment for the murder of William P. Clark, a Fort Worth oil millionaire slain in May, 1953, had been missing since last Thursday.

Police had been questioning underworld acquaintances of the hoodlum since his 1952 Oldsmobile was found abandoned last Friday. Blood was spattered on the upholstery and floor of the automobile.

Authorities found shotgun wadding, pellets and blood near the well where Eggleston's body was hidden.

New State Use Tax Confusing Due to Red Tape

By WARREN H. STROTHER
United Press Staff Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Illinois car buyers and notaries public trying to order titles and licenses today were enmeshed in red tape and confused over the new state "use" tax.

The Illinois Revenue Department reported "considerable confusion" has resulted from the new tax, which took effect Aug. 1. It requires 2 1/2 per cent to be paid by the purchaser on all tangible property.

The "use" tax is aimed at taxing out of state purchases at the same rate as the state retailer's occupational tax taxes in-state buying. But to meet the terms of the constitution, it must be applied "uniformly."

Thus, in setting up procedure for paying the tax on motor vehicles, the came burden was placed on all.

The Way It Works
Here's a rundown on this tax procedure:

The new car buyer who buys from an Illinois dealer pays his tax to the dealer, who gives the purchaser a receipt indicating the tax has been paid. The receipt shows the purchase price of the car and the amount of tax paid. The tax applies to both new and used vehicles.

When the car is bought from an out-of-state dealer, the dealer, of course, does not collect the tax. But the purchaser must send a bill of sale or invoice, showing the purchase price, to the Illinois Revenue Department and include payment for 2 1/2 per cent of the purchase price.

The department sends back a receipt for the tax. This receipt must be included with application for an Illinois motor vehicle title.

The motorist who buys a car from an individual rather than a dealer is not required to pay the tax, in-state or out-of-state.

But the department said it would be wise to obtain from the secretary of state's office a statement that the seller was not a dealer. Otherwise it will be assumed the purchase was from a dealer.

No Specific Form
The secretary of state's office also wanted to make clear that no specific form is being provided to show proof of payment of the use tax, except for the department receipt of out-of-state purchases.

Much of the statewide confusion resulted when the secretary of state's office sent out directions on the "use" tax and in those directions mentioned a sample form on which the report could be made. Some of the notaries public and auto dealers got these forms, others did not.

Those who did not get these forms were mystified and "numerous inquiries" have been made, the office reported.

Dr. Henry Becomes Twelfth President Of U. of Illinois

David Dodds Henry

David Dodds Henry became the twelfth president of the University of Illinois today. He succeeds Lloyd Morey, who served two years after having been comptroller for 37 years.

Dr. Henry had been executive vice chancellor of New York University since 1952, but before that had been president of Wayne University in Detroit. He had been a member of the Wayne staff from 1935 and was its executive vice president from 1939 to 1945.

Before going to Wayne, he was for two years assistant superintendent for higher education in the Michigan State Department of Public Instruction.

At New York University Dr. Henry was primarily responsible for the university's educational program, but also assisted the chancellor in general administration. New York, with an enrollment of more than 38,000, is the largest privately supported university in the world. It has fourteen schools, colleges and divisions.

Dr. Henry will be 50 years of age on October 21. He was born in Pennsylvania, and received all three of his degrees from Penn State University. He is a member of eight educational groups, including Phi Beta Kappa. He has been active in varied educational and civic affairs, and a leader in the development of educational television.

He is the past president of the Association of Urban Universities, has served as first vice-chairman of the American Council of Education, as a member-at-large in the National Council of Honor Societies, and as a member of the National Commission of Accrediting.

The Henry's one child, David, who graduated from Indiana University last year, has been working for a legal firm in New York City this summer.

Red Light Means Stop To This Bus Driver

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—A conscientious Greyhound bus driver kept a load of passengers stranded for two and one-half hours at a railroad crossing Wednesday because the warning signal wouldn't quit blinking.

"Sorry," he explained. "Public Utility Commission rules, you know."

The bus finally resumed its trip after police and railroad men found and had moved a boxcar that was parked on the signal switch.

Bureau of Mines Sees Atomic Age Bringing Big Steel Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Bureau of Mines has taken a long look into the atomic future and sees vast changes coming to steel industry.

According to a bureau survey, the first to analyze publicly the possible effects of atomic power on the steel industry, atomic power ultimately may bring:

1. A sharp shift from huge steel production plants to smaller productive units.
2. A wider geographic distribution of these smaller steel plants.
3. Iron ore processing directly on the site of the iron ore mines.

Steel Centers Vulnerable
In the era of the hydrogen bomb, the heavily concentrated steel industry is a vulnerable target for enemy planes. Steel is the backbone of the nation's defense production.

The bureau noted that present U. S. supply lines for iron ore are dangerously long—and pointed to the lesson to be learned from Germany's defeat in World War II.

German iron, steel and coal production remained at 92 per cent of full capacity as late as 1954, the bureau said, despite heavy allied bombings. Steel production was not knocked out until Allied planes attacked the German supply lines.

Two Major Effects
"At present," the bureau said, "two major effects of atomic power on the steel industry of the United States seem possible."

The first is that, as a result of the availability of low-cost atomic electricity, electric-furnace production of steel from scrap might become important in certain major steel consuming centers which today produce far less steel than they consume or often produce no steel whatsoever.

"The second is that the use of atomic power in conjunction with the hydrogen process for reducing iron ore might move iron production off the iron-ore site."

The Bureau of Mines said both effects are significant "mainly because they imply the use of small-scale units and a much wider degree of geographic decentralization than are common in industrialized nations today."

"In neither case do large cost reductions appear likely as a result of the change," the bureau said.

But it said the "feasibility of exploiting relatively small scale iron ore deposits" not only would spread steel production throughout the United States but would also reduce the security problem by improving American iron ore supply lines.

Cox Gets Permit To Haul Federal Surplus Foods

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Cox Transit Co. today had a 180-day permit from the Illinois Commerce Commission to start hauling federal surplus foods to Illinois schools under its new state contract.

But an attorney for three truckers who fought award of the permit said he was "satisfied there will be an appeal filed on the temporary permit and the case may go to the courts."

The ICC, in a telephone conference emergency session, Wednesday authorized commissioner William Vickers to issue the temporary permit to the Cox firm, owned by Billie M. Cox, Springfield.

At the same time, the commission ordered hearings on a permanent carrier petition by Cox to start Sept. 15.

A touch of autumn ushered in September today.
A fine, cool night turned into a fair, pleasant day in most of the nation.
But in Los Angeles it was hot—and it wasn't just the weather, although that was bad enough.
The mercury soared to 101 degrees in Los Angeles Wednesday for the city's highest mark in two years and its hottest Aug. 31 on record.
At the same time, Los Angeles Smog Control Chief Smith Griswold was making things hot for city officials.
He lashed out at police, industry and the public in general for failing to co-operate to put a stop to the choking fumes and haze which engulfed the city.

Cornfield Wooser Indicted; Mistake Was Using Mails

CHICAGO (UP)—Lloyd Summers, 39, a Polo, Ill., farmer with a wife and four children, was indicted by a federal grand jury today on charges of wooing an attractive neighbor woman too ardently thru the mails.
When Summers was arrested Aug. 4 he told authorities: "Put me right in jail. I'd rather go to jail than face my wife."
The indictment charged that Summers culminated a series of romantic letters to the 32-year-old neighbor by seeking a cornfield "rendezvous" with her.
Instead, postal inspector Melvin Reddin hid in the cornfield four days and nabbed Summers when he showed up.
The woman, whose name was withheld, had gone to postal authorities after getting "fed up" with Summers' persistent mail campaign.
The specific charge against the farmer was sending obscene matter through the mails.
Some of his letters he signed, "Baldy."

June Blackard Bride of Ronny B. Riegel in Lovely Church Wedding

In one of the loveliest weddings of the summer season, Miss June Blackard, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Blackard, 513 North Webster, became the bride of Ronny Burnett Riegel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Riegel, 609 West Sloan.
The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. E. Bush of Edwardsville, Ill., Sunday, August 28, at three thirty o'clock in the afternoon at the First Presbyterian church.

For the sacred occasion the altar was decorated with a background of emerald foliage with two large gold standards of mums tinted heavenly blue mist, flanked by gold vases of white gladioli. The altar table, rail and two large side windows were banked with emerald, huckleberry, gladioli and blue and white pomps. Gold candelabra held tapers of heavenly blue. The pews were marked with holders of huckleberry, blue and white pomps enhanced with bows of blue satin ribbon.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. C. S. Boicourt, organist, played appropriate wedding music and accompanied John Schork who sang "Because," "Till the End of Time," and "The Lord's Prayer" as a benediction.

The bride who was escorted to the altar by her father was lovely in a white schiffli embroidered tulle gown over wedgewood blue taffeta. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a deep V neckline with the front and back being outlined with scallops. Scallops also outlined the short sleeves. The all tiered bouffant skirt with a chapel length train was worn over a dior hoop. Short mitts complemented the gown. Her veil of imported ice blue illusion was attached to an all over embroidered white crown accepted with sequins. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a cascade bouquet of white orchid and stephanotis with delicate blue French tulle surrounded with pearls and garlands of stephanotis and pearls.

Miss Carolyn Blackard, maid of honor, and sister of the bride, wore a floor length gown of wedgewood blue crystalline. The fitted bodice was designed with a softly curved neckline topped with a low shoulder shawl. The voluminous skirt was accented by permanently pleated tiers and worn over hoops. The brim of her picture hat was made of finely pleated nylon net scallops, the crown of which was surrounded with blue forget-me-nots. She carried a cascade of blue Fuji mums with garlands of stephanotis.

Bridesmaids were Misses Betty Butner, Shirley Karnes, Ann Funkhouser, Mary Taylor and Joan Seright. They wore identical costumes differing only in the head-dresses which were headbands of blue to which attached a tiny veil. Their flowers were identical to those of the maid of honor.

The little flower girl, Janice Dillon, wore a floor length gown of heavenly blue nylon net over taffeta. The sweetheart neckline was outlined with rows of tiny net ruffles. Net ruffling accented the bouffant skirt. Blue nylon gloves and a headband of blue pinocchio pomps completed her costume. She carried a heart shaped basket of blue, the handle of which was wound with blue satin ribbon, and scattered petals of blue mums in the path of the bride.

Richard Griffith, Union Town, Ky., was best man, and ushers were Eddie Seright, Bob Orment, Charles Polk, Richard Reynolds and Louis Murphy. Coinciding with this season's new parafit colors, the men wore ice blue summer formal jackets with navy trousers with white carnation boutonnières.

Little Randy Nyberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillips Nyberg, was ring bearer. He carried a heart shaped cushion of white satin with rows of ruffled nylon tulle and cascades of white satin ribbons intermingled with lily of the valley.

Mrs. Blackard chose for her daughter's wedding a heavenly blue sculptured sheath dress in imported lace. The neckline was delicately covered with silk chiffon matching the chiffon over skirt which completely covered the slim blue skirt. She wore a modified picture hat and matching lace gloves.

Mrs. Riegel, the bridegroom's mother, wore heavenly blue lace.

The fitted bodice was fashioned with a scoop neckline and the skirt was accented with a full nylon tulle ruffle at the yoke. She wore a matching half hat and long blue gloves. Both mothers wore white orchids.

The blue and white colors were carried out in the decor for the reception, given afterwards in the church parlors by the bride's parents. The bride's table was lovely, covered with a blue taffeta cloth with white net swags held in place with blue colonial nosegays. The four tiered wedding cake was mounted on blue net interspersed with smilax and pomps tinted heavenly blue. Similar flowers decorated each tier of the cake on top of which was a miniature bride and groom.

After the bride and groom had cut the first piece of cake, Miss Renita Riegel, sister of the groom, and Miss Connie Beth Ingram presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Richard Reynolds and Miss Sherry Hensley served the cake. Miss Lorene Dorris presided at the piano during the reception.

Following the reception the couple left for an undisclosed destination. Both are students at the Southern Illinois University in Carbondale where they will make their home.

Out of town guests were Miss Carolyn Blackard, St. Louis, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dixon, Springfield, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. James C. Hargis, London, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hargis and daughter, Lynn, Bowling Green, Ky., Mr. and Mrs. Byron Blackard and son, Bobby, Naperville, Ill., Miss Dorothy Blackard, Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stephens, Aurora, Miss Clara Blackard, Alton, Mrs. Mildred Euter, Taylorville, Ill., Miss Alice Ogden, St. Louis, Miss Virginia Heppie, St. Louis, Mrs. Jim Burger, St. Louis, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Dorris, Oak Park, Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Bush, Edwardsville, Miss Mary Dowell, Marion, and sorority sisters of the bride, Miss Elizabeth Jeffreys, Carmi, and Miss Myrna McCollum, St. Louis.

P. O. Department Seeks Snapper Dress of Mailmen

WASHINGTON, (UP)—The Post Office Department is considering snapper looking uniforms for its mailmen, a spokesman said today.

But the department, which is now painting its trucks and mailboxes red, white and blue, contemplates no similar gay color scheme for the postmen's attire.

It will stick with the gray-blue color which postmen have been wearing since uniforms were first prescribed by Congress in 1865, the spokesman said.

The department is considering making the uniform better looking by relatively simple changes, such as more stylish tailoring, substitution of blue for gray shirts, or perhaps even a stripe of colored braid in place of the present black trim.

Jackson Defeats Ezzard Charles

CLEVELAND — Heavyweight contender Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson fresh from his second victory over ex-champion Ezzard Charles, said today, "I want a title fight at Miami in February."

Thirty-four-year-old Charles, who gave Tommy much stiffer competition in the arena Wednesday night than he did in their first fight at Syracuse, N. Y., on Aug. 3, declared, "I won't retire. I'll keep on fighting. I thought I won."

Ezzard was on the verge of a knockout in the 10th round when his pitter-patter, dancing opponent suddenly turned slugger and thrice sent the ex-champ lurching nearly to the canvas. Jackson's youthful stamina gave him an impressive victory at the finish.

Confident White Sox Go East Holding Lead; Marty Says Intend to Stay There

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer
The league-leading White Sox hit the road today for a three-week trip that could prove a happy pennant excursion or a one-way ticket to oblivion.

Manager Marty Marion was in the picture of optimism as he shepherded his players eastward. "We've got the feeling we're going to win now, and it doesn't make any difference whether we're on the road or at home," he said. Now that we're out front, we intend to stay there."

The White Sox concluded their home stand on a hopeful note Wednesday when Bob Keegan went the distance to beat the Red Sox, 4-2, for his first victory of the season, as Jim Rivera drove in all runs with two home runs.

Half-Game Lead
The victory preserved the White Sox' half-game lead over the Yankees and Indians, both of whom also won.

The Yankees stayed on the heels of the White Sox by beating the Athletics, 11-6, while the Indians remained tied for second place with the Bronx Bombers by beating the Orioles, 5-1.

Mickey Mantle's 35th homer plus round-trippers by Irv Noren and Gil McDougald help Tommy Byrne to his 13th victory although the veteran southpaw needed Don Larsen's help in the ninth when Kansas City erupted for five runs.

Southpaw Herb Score pitched a three-hitter and struck out 13 Baltimore batters in registering his 14th victory but Oriole reliever Skinny Brown stole the spotlight from him by pitching hitless ball after taking over from starter Bill Wright in the first inning.

Logs Strikeout Record
Score ran his season strikeout total to 209, becoming the first rookie pitcher to strike out more than 200 batters since Grover Alexander did it in 1911. He also became the first major leaguer to fan more than 200 since Bob Feller did it in 1946.

In the National league race, the Braves exploded for four homers to beat the Dodgers, 13-8.

The Giants eliminated the Redlegs from the pennant race by beating them, 5-0, on Ruben Gomez seven-hit pitching.

Johnny O'Brien's 10th inning single scored Preston Ward and gave the Pirates a 4-3 decision over the Cardinals as southpaw Lino Donoso won his first game since July 16.

Stan Lopata and Jim Greengrass hit homers to help the Phillies beat the Cubs, 13-2. Murry Dickson went the distance for his 11th win.

4-H Club News

The Junior Homemakers 4-H club led by Mrs. Louie Gaskins held its Achievement meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Belle Turner.

Business was conducted by the president, Linda Nolen, and reports were given by the vice chairmen, Ruth Ann Bramlet, the secretary, Sara Beth Rice, treasurer, Kathy Morris, and health chairman, Susan Baker. The club voted to donate money left in treasury to the 4-H camp at West Frankfort. Jill Lasersohn and Mary Harold exhibited flower arrangements they had made.

Linda Nolen twirled to "Washington and Lee" in costume, and Sara Beth Rice and Belle Turner did a pantomime, "Go to Sleep," dressed for the occasion.

All girls taking clothing took part in a dress revue, showing blouses and skirts they had made. Modeene Melton was chosen outstanding clothing project member and Jill Lasersohn best in the flower arrangement project and were awarded prizes. All girls taking food project served cookies they had made and delicious punch to their mothers, sisters and other guests. Jill Lasersohn, chairman of the recreation committee, was assisted by Rosemarie Stain and Patty Stone.

POLICE SHOOT IT OUT—Police fire at fugitive Charles Luther Rollins during gun battle at Detroit. Rollins, who fled into a residence, had a 4-hour gun battle with 200 police as some 5,000 persons watched. The house caught fire from tear gas bombs and Rollins was shot and killed as he fled the home.

Nashua Easily Cops Big Race By 6 Lengths

Swaps' Owner Says His Horse Not Right For $100,000 Affair

By ED SAINSBURY
United Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO — A "right" horse beat a "wrong" horse in Nashua's 6 1/2-length triumph over Swaps in their $100,000 winner-take-all match race, and today Swaps' owner, Rex Ellsworth, wanted to know why he had the "wrong" one.

"I don't know what was wrong," he said. "Maybe in a couple of days or so we'll know better. All we know is that he wasn't right."

But right or wrong, Swaps' chance to be acclaimed as three-year-old of 1955 went glimmering when William Woodward Jr.'s colt came winging down Washington Park's long home stretch under a whipping prod from jockey Eddie Arcaro.

Nashua's Ninth Win

It was Nashua's ninth win in 10 starts this year, and it avenged his only 1955 loss by a length and a half to Swaps in the Kentucky Derby at the same distance—a mile and a quarter.

Arcaro broke Nashua out of the gate in front. Swaps came at him twice and failed both times. After a half mile, under jockey Willie Shoemaker's urging, he fell short by a neck. With a quarter to go, under a whipping, he couldn't gain ground on the outside or the inside, and Nashua won going away.

The victory was a major conquest for Nashua, pride of the East before his match race win, despite his loss in the Kentucky Derby. The $100,000 prize put him less than $20,000 short of a new record for earnings in a single year with $689,709 so far this season, compared to Citation's three-year-old record of $709,407.

Surpassed By Two

Also the prize vaulted Nashua to third place in the all-time money-winning column with a total of $882,565 surpassed only by Citation's lifetime earnings of $1,085,760 and Stytle's $918,845.

Swaps, unbeaten in eight 1955 starts prior to Wednesday's downfall, was the heavy favorite of the crowd of 35,262. With only win bet allowed, $174,737 was wagered on the race. $107,359 of it on Swaps to make him the 1-to-5 favorite while Nashua was the 6-to-5 underdog. But the backers of the Woodward entry were rewarded with $4.40 for each $2 wager.

Willie Shoemaker, who piloted the favored Swaps in Wednesday's match race at Washington Park, said "I didn't have the same horse under me today that I had in other races. Swaps didn't run up to his best form, and I know my horse is capable of a lot better than he did today."

Seeing Big Race on TV Has Trials With Youngster Interested in Cowboys

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK — Nashua may be the horse of the year as a result of his 6 1/2 length victory over Swaps, but you can't sell it to me. I've got to go for either: A Hopalong Cassidy's snow-white steed, or B the Lone Ranger's hiyo Silver.

The answer, would be a real match race.

I learned the equine facts Wednesday. I also learned that television—in the home—is no place to watch a horse race.

Maybe the time had something to do with it. Anyhow, Nashua and Swaps started cantering across our living room screen at 6 p. m., EDT. This is the hour, I discovered, when Hoppy, Lone, Johnny Mack Brown, and others of their gun-totin' ilk, daily invade our premises.

Ready And Waiting

As usual, our three-and-a-half-year-old desperado both guns strapped to his side, was ready and waiting.

I don't know who rode Swaps' lead pony, but I do owe him a debt of gratitude. He wore a cow-

His owners Hayes Fair Acres of Du Quoin, announced that Pronto Don is being permanently put out to pasture.

The sorrel gelding, now 10 years old, earned $332,000 in nine years of racing. He topped the $318,000 total earned by the previous all-time money winner, Good Time, in 1954.

Pronto Don's leading triumphs were the $50,000 Golden West trot which he won three times, the $50,000 Roosevelt trot which he took twice, and the Hoosier Futurity.

Rivera Now Player Rajah Said He Would Pay to See

CHICAGO — (NEA) — When Rogers Hornsby first saw Jim Rivera in the Puerto Rican Winter League in 1950-51, he couldn't believe his tired old eyes.

Here was an outfielder he had never heard of who could, in his excellent opinion, beat the best club five ways — with the long ball, bunting or dragging, stealing, a catch or a throw.

Hornsby was even more astonished when he discovered that Rivera could be drafted from Pensacola of the Class B Southwestern League. The Rajah quickly saw to it that he was headed for the management of the Seattle club of the Pacific Coast League. Owner Emil Sick peddled Rivera to the White Sox for $60,000 and players while Jim was leading the Triple A wheel in everything but social standing and the Rainiers were winning the pennant. A subsequent deal sent Rivera to his discoverer and the Browns.

It was during this period that Hornsby said Jim Rivera was the only ballplayer whom he would pay to see.

RIVERA HAS HAD his days and nights, but so did Babe Ruth and a lot of other remarkable hitters. Jim's principal trouble was that he rarely swung the same way twice. He danced around in the box, used bats of different weights, always experimenting.

Rivera got moving when he moved back a step from the plate so he could whack an inside pitch, especially a curve, on the fists. He has stolen 23 bases.

The swift Comiskey outfield composed of Minoso, Jim Busby and Rivera has a phenomenal mark for today's baseball in 44 assists and the Pale Hose, while having no count around them, say half came on stickout plays at the plate. Rivera has 21.

The White Sox have the pitching in Billy Pierce, Dick Donovan, Virgil Trucks and Connie Johnson and an able supporting cast.

But they've got to quit losing one-run games, which is why Minnie Minoso must continue in his old role of chief executioner and Jim Rivera finally live up to all the nice things Rogers Hornsby said about him.

Politicking Amid Rioting

BY BRUCE BISSAT
Even in a world grown callous to violence, the report of more than 2,000 dead in riots in Morocco and Algeria is shocking.

The savage attacks of Arab nationalists against French settlers and others will earn no sympathy for their cause. The synchronized timing of the assaults over a wide area shows they were carefully plotted. This was no spontaneous uprising.

Most likely the North African Liberation Committee, centered in Cairo, gave the signal. If so, the Egyptians must bear a share of the blame, for they have given these revolutionaries sanctuary and allowed them to transmit inflammatory anti-French propaganda to Morocco, Algeria and Tunisia.

But, unhappily, the French themselves cannot escape heavy responsibility for the bloody rioting.
As so often before in dealing with the explosive nationalist problem in its overseas possessions, France was too slow and indecisive.

Most of the time the French seem incapable of mustering a sense of urgency. Tunisia was an exception. There they acted sensibly to produce a settlement acceptable to nationalist elements.
But they declined to allow that to serve as a wise precedent.

So the government delayed and temporized until the lid blew off.
Now, with the heavy slaughter casting a deep shadow over their deliberations, French and Moroccan leaders meet to search for some compromise solution. The quest will not be easy in the atmosphere of bitterness stirred by the riots.

And the French, of course, felt it necessary to meet force with force. Thus in Algeria, not a colony but actually administered as a part of France, the French dealt severe blows against terrorist bands. In Morocco they turned out tanks, planes and infantry to subdue the rebels.

As generally understood, politics is supposed to have something to do with the art of governing. But in post-war France it seems to have become an end in itself, a kind of morass to which the French are drawn irresistibly.

The African rioting, so costly in human life, ought to be one more convincing lesson to France that politics which leads to no decision can lead to disaster.

Air Force's Famed Lucky Lady II Can Be Seen at Fair

The St. Louis Air Reserve Center is sponsoring the Air Force's famed "Lucky Lady II" B-50 Su-perfort at the Du Quoin state fair
Aug. 31 through Sept. 5.

This Air Force exhibit is being made available in conjunction with the Air Force Reserve Training Program being conducted by the St. Louis Air Reserve Center in the southern Illinois area. E-Air Force personnel and Air Force reservists who presently are on a current enlistment or hold a commission in the Air Force Reserve are encouraged to attend the Du Quoin state fair and inspect the actual airplane that flew continuously for 94 hours and one minute and over 23,000 miles before landing. In inspecting this airplane they will be conducted on a tour through the plexiglass nose and back through the fuselage
where the famed Norden Bombsight, the pilot and co-pilot stations, the remote control machine gun turrets and various types of bombs and bomb bays are on display.

At the time of inspection of the "Lady" they will be afforded the opportunity of becoming enrolled in specialized training which the Air Force is offering as a part of the present day Air Force Reserve Program. Any questions or clarification of Air Force Reserve status may be answered by Regular Air Force personnel who will be on duty with the exhibit thruout the period of display.

JACK ANDERSON Says:
Navy Contracts With Company
That Hauled Oil To North Korea; Truman Sends Sweet Note
To Eisenhower Administration;
Another "Harold Talbot" Case Uncovered.
(Editor's Note — While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation his column will be written by members of his staff.)

WASHINGTON. — The Navy has quietly awarded a multimillion-dollar contract to a shipping company whose tankers hauled oil products to North Korea, Red China and Siberia on the eve of the Korean war.

The same company, United Tanker Corporation, also thumbed its nose at the law to get war-surplus oilers and paid only $25 federal tax on $14,000,000 earnings from 1948 to 1950. Again, it violated the "spirit if not the letter" of the Maritime Code by hiring American crews for short periods, then discharging them in Asiatic waters and signing on low-paid foreigners.

Despite this record, the Navy cheerfully handed United Tanker a 10-year oil-hauling contract which not only will pay the company its customary profit but will add eight new tankers to its fleet. This latter arrangement was dictated by Congress which authorized the Navy to defray two-thirds of the tanker construction costs over the 10-year period.

Original purpose was to get the Navy "out of competition with private enterprise." But the symbol of private enterprise, in this case, turned out to be United Tanker Corporation which has been sailing in hot water most of its brief history.

Though operating tankers under American registry, the company is Chinese owned. It was recently forced to cough up $2,000,000 for illegally using American front men to purchase six war-surplus tank-ers.

This was brought out by Senate investigators, who also uncovered that United Tanker had chartered two oilers to Soviet Russia between July 1949 and May 1950. These were used, among other purposes, to help supply oil to the Red armies in North Korea.

The Senate investigation also disclosed that the company had paid only $25 federal tax during two of its most prosperous years.

On another count, the company was never penalized for substituting low-paid foreigners for American crewmen, though it was fined $854,000 for using foreign radio operators in 1951.

Note of the Navy: Don't look now, but the General Accounting Office is investigating the whole mess.

WASHINGTON WHISPERS
This will be denied, but the State Department has a secret policy against assigning American Jews to key posts in Israel. . .
The Democrats are quietly investigating President Eisenhower's use of White House help at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm. . . While ex-President Truman was blasting the Eisenhower administration, he sent a meek thank-you note to the same administration for helping him with his library. . . Truman's unpublished note declares sweetly:
"Mr. Wayne Grover, the national archivist, has been constantly available for comment and advice about the Truman library and has made every effort to be sure that the papers are given that kind of care and treatment that will render them valuable as historical records. He has recently detailed an archivist to Kansas City to classify, sort and box the papers."
Gen. Maxwell Taylor, the new Army chief, is already at odds with the chairman of the joint chiefs, Adm. Arthur Radford. . .

Taylor wants to pull two more American divisions out of the Far East and return them to the United States as part of a central mobile reserve. But Radford fears this plan would tempt the Chinese Communists to attack Formosa.
. . . Virginia's apple-cheeked Sen.
Harry Byrd applied for a visa to visit Russia, thought it over, then changed his mind.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST
Another conflict-of-interest case,
such as led to Air Force Secretary Harold Talbot's oust er, has been uncovered in the Eisenhower administration. Public buildings Commissioner Peter Andreas Strobel, it turns out, is running an engineering consultant service on the side.

What's more, his firm — Strobel and Sulzmaier, 70 West 40th Street,
New York City — is doing business with the government. Yet the handsome Danish-born Strobel has refused to furnish superiors with a list of his clients.

What makes this awkward is that Strobel is in charge of all new federal building construction. Without the list of clients, it is impossible to check whether his firm has taken fees from any contractors or subcontractors.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES
Tall, shuffling Lyndon Johnson,
the sailing Senate majority leader,
took no chances on the flight back to Texas. He flew at low levels, kept an oxygen mask at his side
. . . Johnson was the victim of his own policy of Senate efficiency.

Under his leadership, there were no filibusters, no all-night sessions, no exhaustive debates. . . This policy rested other senators but kept Johnson going practically around the clock. Result: There were no deaths this session and only one serious casualty — Lyndon Johnson, himself. . . Credit efficient Mac Baldrige, ex-Nebraska congressman, with pushing sugar legislation out of the House Rules committee. His quiet lobbying broke the log-jam. . .

Secretary of State Dulles' dramatic offer to guarantee the Arab-Israeli border may have averted war. He acted upon urgent State Department cables, warning that an Egyptian-Israeli war was inevitable. . . Jerome Namias, the Weather Bureau's long-range forecaster, believes a shift in the high-pressure areas over Canada may be sucking hurricanes toward the United States. The high-pressure areas have drifted east, now hover over Newfoundland and Nova Scotia. Since winds blow clockwise around these areas, southerly and southeasterly winds have been blowing across the east coast.
Previously, the winds blew from west to east and chased hurricanes out to sea.

HINTS TO HOUSEWIVES: Because of market conditions, your best buys for September will be pork, beef, broiler and fryer

good buys: canned grapefruit sections, processed lemons and lemons, canned tuna, purple plums, and

Porcelain Allergic To Some Food Acids
MADISON, Wis. — "Many foods and liquids contain acids which can damage porcelain enamel in kitchen fixtures, says Margaret McCordie, University of Wisconsin home management specialist.

Unless the fixtures are "acid-resistant," fruit peelings, lemon juice, tomato juice, vinegar, and ammonia should be removed as soon as possible.

"Porcelain is a form of glass and can be damaged by careless treatment," Miss McCordie said. "Regular cleaning with soapy hot water is always recommended. If a porcelain surface is very dirty or stained, use a fine smooth cleansing powder or paste."

Pink Light Bulbs For Beauty's Sake

NEW YORK — "Now the electric light bulb is competing with candlelight as a glamorizer."
At least two appliance manufacturers—answering the feminine demand for softer lighting for the home—are out with bulbs which cast a flattering pink glow.

One manufacturer (General Electric) says its bulbs, coated with permanent pink enamel, will "give a new radiance to complexions, enrich warm colors in fabrics, pictures and foods, add luster to polished furniture, soften shadows and reduce glare."

Another manufacturer (Sylvania) said it came out with the soft-light after extensive field tests which showed women didn't care so much about bulb wattage as what the light did for their looks and their homes.

BRUSHY

Mrs. Billy LaMonde of Pontiac, Mich., were guests of the W. B. and Grant Riegel families last week. The group fried fish at Cave-in-Rock on Thursday.

Upton, who is working at Menard, was home welcoming an oil well which was established on his farm last week.

Rev. Thomas E. Harper of Mt.
Vernon, evangelist at Mt. Moriah church, brought the message the first night on "The Fields are White Unto the Harvest."

Mrs. Charles Lockwood, Mrs.
John C. Small and Miss Mary Margaret Small were shopping in Mt.
Vernon Friday afternoon.

Befriending a 'Friend' Can Be Expensive

BUFFALO, N. Y.—(U.P.)—Being a friend to "man's best friend" cost a dog-lover $50.

John Piotrowski appeared in city court to face charges of allowing his dog to run unmuzzled. Piotrowski told the judge the dog had belonged to neighbors who moved away. But his daughter fed the homeless hound a few times, and after that Piotrowski said he couldn't chase it away.

The dog liked the Piotrowskis, but didn't take kindly to Policeman Frank A. Priore. The animal bit Priore and tore his uniform. After listening to the tale of woe, the judge found Piotrowski guilty. But he said he'd dismiss the charge if Piotrowski paid the officer $50 for uniform repair and medical expenses. The dog-lover anted up.

Scientific evidence indicates that the earth is about three billion years old.

Who Rides With Wyatt

by Will Henry

THE STORY: Ferd Wagner died after being gunned by Curly Bill in an attempt to help Wyatt Earp enforce his "no-gun" rule in Tombstone. Wyatt intends to bring murder charges against Curly's bunch, but he is prevented from doing so by Johnny Behan, Tombstone political power. Behan gets Wyatt removed as deputy sheriff and himself appointed instead.

XVI

Evvie Cushman answered the door herself, standing trim and tall in its lamplight frame. She saw him there, waiting with his big hat in his hand, but she said nothing and made him speak out first.

"Miss Evvie, I'd like to talk to you if I may."

"Yes? What was it about, Mr. Earp?"

"I'm leaving Tombstone," he said simply. "But before I did there was something I had to say to you, ma'am."

She was decent enough to remember her manners at the last minute. Especially, when the thought crossed her mind that he'd most likely come by to apologize for being rough and short with her before. "Why, of course. Please excuse me, Mr. Earp. I'm afraid you and I just got started rubbing one another the wrong way. It's not that I mean to be rude, sir."

The smile was small and tight around the edges. But the moon was in Wyatt's eyes and he wouldn't see it that way.

He moved past her to turn and stand uneasily in the center of the little room, waiting for her. She followed him in, all at once uneasy herself.

"Now please do sit down, Mr. Earp. You make me downright uncomfortable, standing there like that." She tried to keep the uneasiness out of her voice, glossing it over with another of the neat little smiles. Wyatt caught the bluff this time but put it down for that natural sort of embarrassment you'd find in any young girl with a new gentleman caller in the front room and nobody to home in the back part of the house.

"Well, thanks. I'll just stand, ma'am," he smiled back. "Kind of figure it makes us even. I'm a mite uncomfortable myself."

She only nodded, not saying anything.

"You see it's like I said, Miss Evvie. I'm leaving Tombstone. I'm going into business for myself out in California and..."

"Mr. Earp," she broke in on him quick and sharp. "You know I don't like you and you know I don't like the business you're in. Now please get on with it."

"I mean to, Miss Evvie," he said quietly, "and was just trying to. What I wanted you to know is that I'm quitting the law business. I'm all done with the sort of thing that has made you think I'm a hired killer and that has so set you against me. I thought knowing that might make things some different between us. At least, I hoped it might."

He broke off to take a half-step toward her, his big hands reaching out stiff and clumsy.

"Miss Evvie, I know I haven't any right to call to ask you a question like this, but I just couldn't bring myself to leave Tombstone without I did. And without I got your certain-final answer." He hesitated, then let the rest of it come out in that blunt, straight way of his. "You're woman enough, and plenty woman enough, to know what I'm talking about, Miss Evvie. And to guess how I feel about you. Question is, girl, is there any last chance you could some day come to feel the same way about me?"

She didn't move, nor say a thing. Just stood there looking half away from him and biting that beautiful bottom lip of hers. He moved a little more toward her, swallowed hard and almost got it said—but never did.

The minute he moved, she did too.

He hadn't a thought in mind actually to put his hands on her. He was just using them the way any worked-up man would, to try to show her how much more he wanted to say than he could put into words.

"Don't touch me! Oh, please, Mr. Earp, don't touch me..."

He stepped back. Felt the desire of her go out of him. Felt, in its empty place, his own man strength rushing back into him. He saw the misery of her trembling against the wall, and knew that for him Evvie Cushman's beauty must become a destroyed and lifeless thing. And that she was only to be pitied and turned away from with all the kindness and gentleness he could show.

Before he turned away from her, Wyatt told her in that slow, kind way of his, "I'm right sorry I frightened you, Miss Evvie, ma'am." Then soft and gentle, and like a man would say to his kid sister or to his own little "Poor little thing..."

That was all.

Somehow, he wasn't surprised to find Lilly there when he returned to the shack for his warbag. What he hadn't expected was the unsettling, warm glow it gave him.

She gave the smile back to him at something better than 6 per cent interest. "Looks like maybe you're figuring to run out on us."

She held up, studying him with those slant eyes of hers. "It's not like your kind, Wyatt."

"I got to. There's nothing here for me now. You heard what happened last night."

"Sure. What I'm waiting to hear is what happened tonight."

He knew what she meant. He didn't back around it. "Nothing," he said. "I reckon she just isn't my kind."

"She isn't any man's kind, boy. I could have told you that. Any woman could."

"I'm the sort has got to find things out for himself."

Herbs Give Flavor

To Plentiful Pork

CHICAGO — (U.P.) — Spices and herbs add new sparkle to meat dishes.

With the great supplies of fresh pork, you'll find they add new taste appeal to old favorites such as roast loin of pork or braised pork chop.

Rub the surface of a pork roast with margarine or sage before roasting. Rosemary also is a favorable addition to the pork roast.

In braising chops, add a small amount of caraway or sprinkle savory on the chops before cooking, and add half a bay leaf to the braising liquid. Thyme also combines well with fresh pork. Or, add a little chili powder or coriander to ground pork.

Full House
McLOUTH, Kan. — There's no extra room in Verne C. Bartlett's big house. He has a big family. Arrival of Donna Marie and Donis Jean gave the Bartletts three sets of twins in three years, and a total of 14 children.

NO BRASS HAT—U. S. Adm. William M. Fechteler, commander of NATO forces in Southern Europe, sports a natty Alpine hat given him by veterans of Italy's Alpine Legion. The hat was presented during a three-day exercise of NATO land, sea and air forces in Northeastern Italy.

Make Your Own Paris Creation

PARIS — (U.P.) — Any woman handy with needle and thread, and with $15 to $20 in the bank, can appear this fall in a Paris creation.

Big business methods are being adopted in the home of haute couture and one enterprising firm is out with a "packaged" dress which, like a frozen dinner, comes with all the fixings included.

The dress is the idea of an American who bears the name Gaston de Paris. He has taken over the collection of Serge Kogan, who once worked for Jacques Heim, Christian Dior and Lily Dache, and is packaging his dresses in easily assembled kits, costing $15 to $25.

The kit includes the pre-cut fabric, plus thread, buttons, hooks, zippers, linings, trimmings—and a Paris label.

Also included are simple directions and for the dunderheads at the sewing machine, simple illustrations.

Experts estimated that the sewing time for a dress in the Gaston de Paris' collection will range from two to six hours.

Cereal Goes "Chicken"

NEW YORK — (U.P.) — The shredded wheat biscuits children enjoy for breakfast make delicious bases for a chicken a la king lunch or supper meal. Brush the biscuits generously with butter or margarine and heat in the oven a few minutes. Top with the hot chicken mixture and sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese. Serve with a tossed garden salad and a fresh fruit dessert.
